GOV'T WATCH

Serving and Protecting the Filipino Consumer

[illegible]

COMELEC MUST ASSURE THE PUBLIC THAT IT MADE THE RIGHT DECISION IN OPTING TO REUSE SMARTMATIC'S PCOS MACHINES IN THE 2013 MIDTERM ELECTIONS

The Commission on Elections (COMELEC), under the leadership of Chairman Sixto Brillantes and Commissioners Rene Sarmiento, Lucenito Tagle, Armando Velasco, & Elias Yusoph, has decided to exercise its option to purchase Smartmatic's 82,000 Precinct Count Optical Scan (PCOS) machines in the amount of P1.8 billion considering the following factors:

1. Limitations of the budget provided by Congress (P7 billion).
2. Voters' familiarity with the PCOS machines.
3. The PCOS system is better than a manual system prone to manipulation and fraud.

The decision to purchase and reuse the PCOS machines in the 2013 Midterm Elections was made despite a formal resolution by the Comelec Advisory Council (CAC) team of technical experts dated February 8, 2012 stating that:

1. The option to purchase should not be exercised since this prevents COMELEC from taking advantage of the best possible and less expensive technology currently available.
2. Exercising the Smartmatic option will prevent other prospective vendors from participating competitively in the bidding process.

The CAC also said that Smartmatic should be penalized accordingly for the glitches with respect to its [illegible] including the failure to provide 100% transmission and the time stamp issue – valid reasons for the voters to doubt the system.

COMELEC MUST BE ABLE TO JUSTIFY ITS DECISION TO THE PUBLIC SO THAT THE CREDIBILITY OF THE 2013 MIDTERM ELECTIONS WILL NOT BE DOUBTED.

COMELEC has stated that "almost all" the faults that have caused the glitches in the 2010 elections have been fixed. The credibility of the 2013 Midterm Elections is crucial as it lays the foundation for the 2016 National Elections.

GOV'T WATCH strongly urges COMELEC to assure the public that the following reasons for opposition to the PCOS machines have already been addressed:

1. Presence of a prohibited console port in the PCOS machines. This could allow easy unsecured access to the machine's operating system and make tampering child's play.
2. The absence of crucial identifying digital signatures in the machines thereby making it impossible to pinpoint and verify the source of transmitted results.
3. Ineffectiveness of the ultraviolet sensor lamps in the machines thereby allowing the use of [illegible] ballot papers.
4. Various bugs and flaws in the system software causing errors in election returns.
5. Incorrect date and time stamps, thereby making an effective audit trail impossible.

In addition to the PCOS machines, there are other pending electoral concerns that require COMELEC's immediate attention:

1. ALL VOTERS MUST UNDERGO ELECTRONIC RE-REGISTRATION USING BIOMETRICS.

   Electronic Re-registration using BIOMETRICS will create highly credible elections because it will minimize, if not totally eradicate multiple registrants and even ghost voters.

2. COMELEC MUST ENCOURAGE ACTIVE PARTICIPATION FROM CIVIC ORGANIZATIONS TO BE "CREDIBLE ELECTION WATCHDOGS" SIMILAR TO NAMFREL TO PROTECT THE INTEGRITY OF THE BALLOTS.

   GOV'T WATCH is willing to work closely with NAMFREL in this regard.

3. GOV'T WATCH WILL REQUEST FROM COMELEC THE UPDATED BIOMETRIC LIST OF VOTERS.

   This should be disseminated through mass media, Facebook, and other social networking sites on a per district basis two months before Election Day.

We urge PNoy to rise to the challenge and put into place an electoral system with unquestioned credibility, possibly the most meaningful legacy he could ever leave.

RAUL T. CONCEPCION
Chairman

PMI Colleges gets QC RTC injunction vs CHED closure order

The country's pioneer in maritime education, the PMI Colleges, formerly known as the Philippine Maritime Institute, was recently granted by the Quezon City Regional Trial Court an injunction on the closure order issued by the Commission on Higher Education (CHED).

This injunction became effective immediately after the PMI filed a bond upon receiving the Order and CHED has become restrained from the execution of the said order.

In October 2011, CHED released a Resolution that shut down two of PMI's flagship degree programs, namely Bachelor of Science in Marine Transportation (BSMT) and Bachelor of Science in Marine Engineering (BSMarE). CHED alleged that the school was not compliant with "international standards". This was strongly contested by PMI, which brought the matter to court. Aside from stating that the resolution was baseless, PMI questioned the timing of the closure, which was ordered in the middle of the school year. PMI has also pointed out that the closure order was a violation of the CHED's own Manual of Regulations for Private Higher Education (MORPHE).

Students, faculty members, and alumni of the PMI openly expressed support for the school as they attended the hearings of the case and staged peaceful protests [illegible] outside the premises of the CHED offices in Quezon City. During a sit-down rally, however, violence erupted when CHED security personnel resorted to what the school officials referred to as "unnecessary and uncalled for strong intervention" on the rally participants.

"We are very grateful for the issuance of the injunction as it has favorably considered our points of objection," [illegible], president and chief executive officer of the PMI said. "We are happy that our students and their parents will no longer be in a state of anxiety and apprehension. We now hope for a final resolution of the case," she added.

IT IS IMPORTANT TO NOTE:
PMI Colleges was never shut down at any point. Operations continued and will continue, armed with the strong commitment to excellence in Maritime Education.

WE ARE NOW ACCEPTING ENROLLMENT FOR THE MARITIME PROGRAMS FOR SUMMER 2012
